

Missionary Media

Equipping Missionaries for the Digital Age

Guide 01 - By Tabor Normoyle

Digital Outreach Handout

A Practical Guide for Missionaries

WHY DIGITAL OUTREACH?

People today spend hours each day online. Many who may never enter a church building are searching for answers, community, hope, and truth through social media, websites, videos, and messaging platforms.

Digital outreach is not a replacement for traditional ministry—it is an extension of it. Just as missionaries use printed literature, radio, personal conversations, and church gatherings, digital tools provide another way to share the Gospel and connect with people.

Remember: You do not need to be a technology expert to begin. Start small, stay consistent, and trust God to use your efforts.

IF YOU'RE UNSURE SOCIAL MEDIA'S FOR YOU

Before social media becomes a strategy, decide why it exists, who it serves, and what follow-through you can actually keep.

- Pray first. Ask God for wisdom and whether this tool belongs in this season.
- Research the field. Learn how your country actually uses internet, video, messaging, search, and social platforms.
- Take one small step. Make truth easier to find in a way small enough to repeat.

“The first steps may feel clumsy, but staying silent because it feels unfamiliar will not help anyone hear.” – T.N.

Missionaries have always gone where people gather. The market. The school. The village square. The front porch. Digital outreach is not replacing that. Think of it like a road sign on a road people already travel on.

Some people will never ask their deepest questions out loud though. They may be afraid of family. Afraid of shame. Afraid of what it would cost them. But behind a closed door, with a phone in their hand, they may be willing to listen. Digital outreach gives that person a quiet first step toward truth, and it gives the missionary a way to move that quiet step toward a real relationship.

May we not use digital tools simply because they are new. May we use them because people are there, questions are there, and the Gospel is worthy of being found there.

HOW TO GET STARTED

DIGITAL OUTREACH STRATEGY

“If you try to reach everyone, you will reach no one. If you try to say everything, people will remember nothing.” - T.N.

ONE-SENTENCE FOCUS - Audience + Focus = Reach

ASK:

- Who am I trying to reach first?
- What hurt, feeling, question, or truth are they already dealing with?
- What do I want them to understand after watching?
- What kind of online reputation do I want to build over time?
- What value can I consistently add to that person's life?

I help who: understand what:

SECURITY CONSIDERATIONS

In some ministry contexts, security is important.

- Protecting sensitive information
 - Avoiding unnecessary personal details
 - Using secure communication channels
 - Understand copyright permissions
 - Research faceless youtube channels strategy
 - Use secure email list gathering to keep contacts
-

KEY TAKEAWAYS

You do not need a large budget, professional equipment, or advanced technical skills to begin digital outreach.

You just need to press record.

A simple Facebook page, a basic website, a smartphone, and a willingness to share Christ faithfully can reach people far beyond the boundaries of traditional ministry. The digital world is one of the largest mission fields in history. God has opened doors for the Gospel to reach homes, phones, and hearts around the world.

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations...”

Matthew 28:19

ACTION PLAN

60-DAY PRACTICE PATH

Set aside one 4-hour block each week. Do this with your wife or with someone who can help you.

01 Find your niche

Answer the Niche Finder questions.
Write: I help __ understand __.

02 Study the conversation

Research the hurt, feeling, question, or truth your audience already carries.

03 Write short responses

Draft five 30-second responses: one hurt, one truth, or one next step.

04 Practice recording

Record drafts before posting. Send five to a trusted reviewer.

05 Prepare your setup

Verify restrictions. Set up window light, phone stand, and a lav mic if possible.

06 Build the account

Add a clear bio and one follow-through link.

07 Post first videos

Post the first three videos and record more than one when possible.

08 Review and repeat

Look at what helped, what confused people, and what questions came back. Batch record videos.

EDUCATION + TOOLS

Missionary Media Hub - youtube.com/@MissionaryMediaHub

Think Media - youtube.com/@ThinkMediaTV

Full Time Filmmaker - youtube.com/@fulltimefilmmaker

Churchfront - youtube.com/@Churchfront

Caleb Ralston - youtube.com/@CalebRalston

Church Setup - youtube.com/@ChurchSetup

Kallaway (Strategy) -
youtube.com/@kallawaymarketing

Buffer - buffer.com - schedule posts.

Captions - captions.ai - captions and short edits.

OBS - obsproject.com - record your screen, phone, or camera.

CapCut - Capcut.com - edit short videos.

Canva - canva.com - graphics, thumbnails, and simple PDFs.

ChatGPT / Codex - topics, scripts, planning, and review.

NEED HELP KNOWING WHERE TO START?

Missionary Media translates the tech, tools, and strategy into next steps that fit the field.

missionarymediahub@gmail.com

301-550-0802

Scan for Josh Mead testimony